

I oppose allowing large communications corporations to expand the number of media outlets it owns in any one market. Expansion will narrow the availability of different views and will all but eliminate local news. This would be really bad for our democracy and country.